

TOO MANY MEETINGS?

How to Streamline Discussions and Get Things Done

Employees attend more meetings today than ever, especially online, but are those meetings productive? Use these tips to get the most out of your meetings.

WHAT'S THE PROBLEM WITH ONLINE MEETINGS?

Many current meetings solutions require downloads and have complex interfaces. Workers say that means most meetings don't start on time.

of workers say it takes them more than two minutes to log in to a virtual meeting.<sup>1</sup>

4 in 10

workers have trouble calling in to virtual meetings using their mobile phones.

40%

report wishing audio quality was better.

39%

say they want a single click to join instantly with no downloads.

USERS WANT MORE COLLABORATION

Good news: Attendees often use multiple collaboration tools during a meeting. Bad news: Everyone's using different tools, making real collaboration difficult. The answer: Bring it all together.

60%

of users share files or other documents via email during a video meeting.

43%

use the virtual meeting's built-in chat.

17%

use an external team messaging app.

67%

of employees want a seamless integrated virtual meeting experience that includes messaging and file sharing.

SEEING IS ENGAGING

Video helps people feel more connected—and it helps close deals.

of people say that video calls build relationships and trust better than audio-only meetings.

of employees say they are less likely to multitask on a video call.

Successful sales deals have 41% higher rates of video usage than lost deals.<sup>2</sup>

ANATOMY OF A BETTER ONLINE MEETING EXPERIENCE

To boost collaboration, create a fast, smart, and connected meetings experience that brings together multiple forms of communication to build context and intelligence. Look for the following:

HD voice and video

No downloads

Multimedia sharing

A single app for messaging, video, and phone

Integrations with email, productivity, and business apps

APIs ready for custom app integrations

Cloud recording

And more
